Port of Melbourne Corporation General Manager, Infrastructure Delivery Tony Murphy, Patrick Terminal and Logistics Operations Manager Chris Brewster, and Mirrat Operations Manager Jed Smith, are the latest to confirm their participation in the VTA's annual seminar on Victoria's ports and channels sector.

"With just over a week until Port Outlook on 12 July, the VTA is urging members and others in the transport industry to finalise their registration for what has shaped up as a really strong program," said VTA CEO Peter Anderson.

Victorian Ports Minister Luke Donnellan, MP headlines a list of featured speakers including:

- Max Kruse, DP World Australia;
- Anders Dommestrup, Victorian International Container Terminal;
- Tony Murphy, Port of Melbourne Corporation;
- Malcolm Geier, Port of Hastings Development Authority;
- Chris Brewster, Patrick;
- Stuart Christie, Victorian Regional Channels Authority;
- Jed Smith, Mirrat; and
- Matt Eryurek, SCT Logistics.

"There have been significant changes in the 12 months since our last Port Outlook with legislation passed to lease the Port, a new entrant about to commence operations and progress made on the Port Capacity Project. The seminar will be a great opportunity for delegates to learn more about what's happening at our ports from the people who live and breathe the changes every day," Mr Anderson said.

Port Outlook 2016 is a must-attend event for senior freight company managers, freight generators, importers and exporters that rely on the ports, policy makers, analysts and other port users.

The seminar is being held at Waterfront Venues Melbourne at Docklands from 7.30am-2pm, concluding with an optional boat tour of the Port of Melbourne. Tickets are $225 for VTA members and $275 for non-members, including breakfast, morning tea and lunch.
