Victorian Premier Daniel Andrews to talk transport with VTA members

Victorian Premier Daniel Andrews has accepted an invitation from the Victorian Transport Association to meet with members, sponsors, associates and other stakeholders from the freight and logistics sector.

The event, sponsored by SG Fleet, is being held in the Members Dining Room at Parliament House on Wednesday, 15 August from 5-7.30pm, providing a unique opportunity for attendees to see inside the cradle of the Victorian Government, and one of the city's more remarkable landmarks.

"With the Victorian Freight Plan recently announced, and unprecedented road and rail infrastructure being built across the state, the needs of the freight and logistics sector are a priority for state and federal legislators," said VTA CEO Peter Anderson.

"We are delighted the Premier has agreed to meet with the VTA and its members and supporters, to outline initiatives either in place or under consideration by the Victorian Government to ensure Victoria retains its mantle as the freight capital of Australia.

"With the November state election looming, attendance at this event is a great opportunity to contribute to policy formulation that could have far-reaching impacts on our industry," he said.

The VTA has cultivated a positive working relationship with the Victorian Government to advance the interests of members and the broader freight and logistics industry.

The Premier's attendance at this event follows a succession of senior government ministers addressing VTA events, including Treasurer Tim Pallas, Roads and Ports Minister Luke Donnellan, and Industrial Relations Minister Natale Hutchins.
