

P.O. Box 5, South Melbourne, Vic 3205; reception@vta.com.au; www.vta.com.au

This is the first in a series of VTA Training Academy workshops on Chain of Responsibility (CoR). This workshop is designed to create awareness of the fundamentals of CoR so participants will have a basic knowledge of the various obligations and responsibilities under the new National Heavy Vehicle Law.

Do you realise that you, as well as your company, could be held legally liable for breaches of Chain of Responsibility (CoR) legislation? CoR places obligations and responsibilities on each of the parties in the supply chain, not just those directly associated with the transport movement.

What the Chain of Responsibility workshop will cover

- What is CoR?
- A background to CoR.
- Does CoR affect me?
- What is the scope of CoR?
- The 10 keys areas of CoR.
- What are the critical roles that influence CoR?
- Some examples of breaches and fines.
- Next steps.

Workshop outcomes

- You will leave with a clear understanding of what CoR is, and what it tries to achieve.
- You will leave with an understanding of how CoR affects you and your business.
- You will leave with the skills and knowledge to assess your company’s compliance to CoR legislation.
- You will leave knowing which roles are critical in the chain.

Who should attend

- Drivers
- Schedulers
- Operations
- Administrators

Chain of Responsibility – Awareness

Date	Wednesday 6 February 2019 - 8:00am to 12 Noon; or Wednesday 8 May 2019 - 8:00am to 12 Noon; or
Venue	VTA Offices – Level 1, Mirrat House, 46 Kooronga Way (Webb Dock) Port Melbourne
Cost	Members - $360 (including GST) per person/Non Members - $390 (including GST)
Materials	Each participant will receive a copy of the presentation

About the presenter

David Vaughan is an experienced supply chain professional and has had many years in the CoR world, most recently heading up Compliance for Coles Supply Chain (covering Coles, K-Mart, Target, Officeworks, Toll, Linfox, Polar Fresh, Wightmans, Costa Group, and the list goes on). He holds a Bachelor of Business, Certificates in Operations Management, Purchasing and Planning, Training and Assessment, and is a qualified Auditor, Food Safety and Dangerous Goods Practitioner.

David has sat on many industry committees, including the Australian Logistics Council, Industry Skills Council and regularly works with Regulatory Authorities, peak Industry Bodies and enforcement groups. David is passionate about CoR and imparting knowledge to help businesses achieve excellent outcomes.

